

Passport Special Cases — Nepal

Overview

Some applicants need extra documents based on their situation. Use the table below to find what applies to you.

Special Case Document Requirements

Situation	Extra Documents Required
Date of birth differs between citizenship and school certificate (SLC/SEE or higher)	Educational qualification certificate (SLC/SEE or higher level)
Date of birth differs between citizenship and Indian/British/Singapore pension records	Pension slip / Discharge Certificate
Married woman adding husband's surname	Marriage registration certificate + husband's citizenship certificate
Divorced woman removing husband's surname	Divorce certificate
Applicant living in a different district than citizenship was issued	Migration Certificate
Married woman with new address after marriage	Marriage certificate
Minor applicants (under 16)	Minor Identity Card (verified by DAO/AAO) + parent/guardian citizenship

Minors — Detailed Requirements

- Minor Identity Card must be verified by the DAO/AAO that issued it
- If the minor has migrated districts, verification must be done at the current district of residence

- Authentication of the Minor Identity Card is mandatory for a first passport — applications will not be accepted without it
 - Parent, guardian, or authorized relative may collect the passport on the minor's behalf

Children Born Abroad to Nepali Parents (First Passport)

These children often do not have a Minor Identity Card. They must apply through the Nepali mission abroad.

Process:

1. Contact the Nepali embassy/consulate in the country of residence
2. Submit the following documents to the embassy:
 - Copies of both parents' Nepali citizenship certificates
 - Copies of both parents' passports
 - Parents' marriage registration certificate
 - Child's original birth registration certificate
 - Two recent passport-size photographs of the child
3. Embassy issues a birth registration or temporary registration number
4. Use this number in the "Citizenship Number" field of the passport application form

Important: After this passport is issued, the child must obtain a Minor Identity Card from the relevant DAO/AAO in Nepal. This is required for all future renewals.

For children with a foreign father and Nepali mother: Contact the relevant authorities in the father's country of citizenship for passport matters.

Applying from a Different District

- If you have a Migration Certificate, you can apply from your current district
 - You can always apply at the Department of Passports regardless of district
 - Without a migration certificate, apply at the DAO/AAO of your citizenship district

Applying from Abroad

- Choose the Nepali mission in your country as your enrollment center

- If no mission in your country, use the mission accredited to your country
 - Processing time: 15 days to 2 months (varies by mission)
 - Fees and procedures vary by mission — contact them directly before applying
 - If you applied abroad but need to return to Nepal before receiving the passport:
 1. Inform the embassy
 2. Request transfer to the Department of Passports in Nepal
 3. Collect at the Department with: embassy recommendation letter, original citizenship/Minor ID, old passport, and payment receipt

Urgent Passport While Abroad

- Cannot be done through relatives in Nepal
 - Options:
 - Apply for a temporary passport at the nearest Nepali mission (handwritten; limited use — mainly for return to Nepal)
 - Travel to Nepal to apply in person
 - If no passport to travel, apply for a travel document/travel permit at the mission

Military / Peacekeeping Applicants

Applicants from the Nepal Army, Nepal Police, or similar institutions who previously received a passport under the Gratis facility for peacekeeping but no longer have the passport:

- Select "Renewal" as the application type
 - Mention the previous passport number in the form

Official or Diplomatic Passport Holders

- When applying for a regular (ordinary) passport, do not mention the official/diplomatic passport number
- Proceed with the appropriate application option as a regular applicant
